
Michael Kagan Appears on Money Life with Chuck Jaffe

July 09, 2020

Portfolio Manager Michael Kagan appears on Money Life with Chuck Jaffe, where he highlights that only a few stocks have been driving a big percentage of recent market gains, and that this type of market concentration, reminiscent of the market in 2000, carries risks. Investors betting on companies that are currently producing results may see those stocks suffer when the market begins to broaden.

Michael Kagan
Portfolio Manager

35 Years experience 26 Years at ClearBridge

All opinions and data included in this commentary are as of the publication date and are subject to change. The opinions and views expressed herein are of the author and may differ from other portfolio managers or the firm as a whole, and are not intended to be a forecast of future events, a guarantee of future results or investment advice. This information should not be used as the sole basis to make any investment decision. The statistics have been obtained from sources believed to be reliable, but the accuracy and completeness of this information cannot be guaranteed. Neither ClearBridge Investments, LLC nor its information providers are responsible for any damages or losses arising from any use of this information.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results.